The President's Letter

UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON
DAYTON, OHIO

February 15, 1929.

To the Alumni of the University of Dayton:

Alumni who have not had the opportunity to call at the University during the past year will be delighted on the occasion of their next visit to see the beautiful Albert Emanuel Library, which now graces the entrance to the University campus.

With the increase in the student body better library facilities had to be provided. Victor Emanuel, '15, generously supplied the building needed. It contains two large reading rooms and a magazine room; reference, lecture, seminar and cataloguing rooms and offices, and a stackroom with a capacity of 110,000 books. We have at present approximately 25,000 volumes.

Following the suggestion made by several alumni, we have decided to set aside the week of April 21-28 of this year as "Library Week," requesting alumni and friends to help fill the empty shelves by making donations in cash or in books. Cash donations for the endowment of high class magazines will be greatly appreciated. Those who contribute to the support of the Library will be given membership in the "Albert Emanuel Library Club" and their names will be recorded in the Club register. Contributors of endowments for magazines and of valuable collections of books will be listed as Patrons of the Library and their names will be posted in a conspicuous place in the Library.

We expect shortly to send out a more comprehensive plan outlining our needs in the important field of Journal Literature, together with suggestions as to the most practical way to meet this need.

On another page of this magazine will be found the names of alumni who have anticipated this appeal in behalf of the Library and have made substantial gifts of sets of books.

We are confident that the alumni of the University will be pleased to take advantage of "Library Week" to show their personal appreciation of the generous gift of their fellow-alumnus, Victor Emanuel. We take this occasion to thank them in advance for their support.

Devotedly yours,

Benjamin P. O'Leary, M.

President.

Editorial

THE beautiful Albert Emanuel Library, erected on the fore of the campus, gives to the University not only the long desired and needed facilities but also an outstanding monument of architecture, a most fitting memorial for any campus. This new educational edifice meets all the old deficiencies and aims to maintain the high standard of learning among the U. of D. students.

The gift of the Library represents the absolute faith in Alma Mater of a loyal and devoted alumnus. It stands out as an exemplar of that real alumni spirit of loyalty and devotion, as should be found in the heart of every alumnus.

The alumni are deeply grateful to their fellow-alumnus,

Victor Emanuel, and will welcome "Library Week" as a means of expressing their gratitude as well as their own loyalty and devotion.

Not only for this generation but for the days to come the Albert Emanuel Library will minister effectively to the culture and education of the potential leaders who are found in the making at this great institution of learning.

CAMPUS NEWS DIGEST

By Tom Ryan, '29

BAND TO CELEBRATE Plans are now being made by Brother Louis Vogt, S.M., for a "Silver Jubilee Concert" to be given in May. The idea of the concert is to celebrate the twenty-five years the "Red Devil Band" has been functioning on the campus. In a recent interview with Brother Louis it was evidenced that he aspires to have present at the concert as many of the alumni as possible, especially those who were at one time or another members of the band. That you might help in the celebration he is calling for suggestions in regard to the making of a program. Send in your suggestions and let's help put across this Silver Jubilee Concert.

DEBATING TEAM SCHEDULE The University Debating Team, under the direction of Dr. Lawrence Boll, S.M., will carry the Red and Blue colors in the following debates: February 14, vs. Detroit at Dayton; February 18, vs. St. Louis at St. Louis; February 20, vs. St. Viator at Bourbonnais; February 22, vs. Loyola at Chicago; March 4, vs. Detroit at Detroit; March 12, vs. St. Viator at Dayton; and March 19, vs. Loyola, here. The subject on which the teams will debate is "Resolved, That the trial by jury should be abolished." Those comprising the teams are: Affirmative—Messrs. Deger, Park, Iwashita, Gabel, Dove, and Redman; Negative—Messrs. Snyder, Levett, Sullivan, Devaney, Deutsch, and Haag.

HISTORY CLUB ACTIVE "Excavations in Carthage and the Sahara Desert" was the subject of a lecture given by Count Prorock and attended by the students of the History Department, January 13. At this lecture the History Department and particularly the International Relations Club was the guest of Mr. C. C. Schiffeler, manager of the Van Cleve Hotel, Dayton. The International Relations Club, which is under the tutelage of Rev. Charles Preisinger, head of the History Department, is enjoying its second year of activity on the campus. This club, like its sisters and brothers throughout the country, is endowed by the Carnegie Endowment.

DELIGHTFUL PRESENTATION These words were used by one of the local daily play critics in his review of the presentation of the play "Little Old New York," sponsored by the "D" Club on February 10. "Little Old New York" is that delightful little four-act play from the pen of Rida Johnson Young. The leading male role of Larry Delavan was taken by Maurice Costello, while that of the little Irish boy-girl lead of "Pat" O'Day was taken by Miss Dorothy Benkert, who is a graduate of the school of drama at St. Mary's College, Indiana. Miss Benkert was superb in her portrayal of that very hard role of the little Irish belligerent. Other members of the cast were: Mr. O'Day, Francis Marshall; Riley, W. Hamilton; Washington Irving, Paul Lutz; Cornelius Vanderbilt, Charles Bauman; John Jacob Astor, Richard Frankenstein; and Henry Brevoort, Theodore Cummings. Other female parts were taken by Misses Rosemary Abel, Margaret Gilbert and Lucille Abel.

MONOGRAM DANCE On Monday evening, February 4, the Monogram Club of the University outdid all previous social records in the staging of their annual "D" Dance at the Greystone, Dayton.

THE ALBERT EMANUEL LIBRARY CLUB

The Albert Emanuel Library Club is composed of all alumni and friends who contribute their support to the new Library by making donations of books, or cash to be used for the purchase of books or the endowment of magazines.

The following donors have been inscribed as members of the Club:

1. Victor Emanuel, '15, four valuable manuscripts:
  - (a) Papal Bull of John XXIII, dated Rome, February 8, 1415.
  - (b) Papal Bull of Clement VII, dated Rome, December 7, 1524.
  - (c) Papal Bull of St. Pius V, dated Rome, November 4, 1570.
  - (d) A page from The Golden Legend written by Jacobus de Voragine, Archbishop of Genoa, in the fifteenth century.
2. Harry C. Busch, '96:
A complete set of The Federal Reporter in 327 volumes.
3. H. J. Braun, '07:
103 volumes on art, literature and history.

SUGGESTED READING

By Francis Ruhlman, S.M.

The attempt will be made to recommend only such books as are of general interest. They will be chosen from as diversified a field as possible, covering biography, history, literature, sociology, and the like. As a rule books referred to will be the most recent. However, should an older book be brought to our attention that we feel would be well worth reading, we will not hesitate in recommending it, irrespective of the time published.

PERE MARQUETTE

By Agnes Repplier. Doubleday, Doran. $2.50.

This book is a departure from the field in which Miss Repplier has been writing. Heretofore her preoccupation has been the essay and there is no doubt about her title as the foremost American woman essayist. Her first attempt at biography has certainly been a very successful one. There never yet has been a biography of Marquette that is more charming and sprightly and altogether readable than this. Written with historical accuracy and with dramatic vigor, the biography is none the less delicately wrought. Though it speaks of great deeds, it does so not with awe but with a gentle smile. Granting herself the pleasure of a slight digression the author however never departs far from the steady flow of her story.

THE ORIGINS OF THE WORLD WAR

By Sidney Bradshaw Fay. 2 vols. Macmillan. $8.00.

Few books have ever been awaited with so much interest and impatience. Professor Fay has spent years in careful investigation, having seen and weighed practically all the source material in any language. In the two volumes as a whole we may find the most complete and convincing summary of the facts about the responsibility of the World War which has been produced in any country. Mr. Fay's conclusion is that all the European countries, in a greater or less degree, were responsible for the war and that the Versailles verdict of German guilt is historically unsound. As the product of serious-minded, historical scholarship, these two volumes must be rated as a masterly achievement.

Flyers Fail to Impress in First Six Cage Tilts; Dayton Offensive Is Weak

WITH the Flyer basketball season off to a six-game start at this writing, it is possible to get a pretty fair estimate of Fitzpatrick's charges. To date the Daytonians have copped four of their six contests and for the balance of the season have the greater part of an extremely difficult schedule in front of them.

While the Flyers have come out on top so far the showing of the Fitzmen to date is more or less of a disappointment. The much-heralded scoring forward combination of Ladner and Lensch has failed woefully. Crush has replaced Lensch in the regular lineup while Ladner remains with the A-team solely on the strength of his showing in one game.

Average Points Less

Dayton has averaged a little less than 30 points per game so far whereas last season the Flyers chalked up a season record of 36 per contest. The only bright ray was in the contest with Capital in which the Fitzmen emerged with a 45-17 victory. And of the remaining thirteen games at least ten may be considered as extremely difficult for Dayton to win.

Ohio Wesleyan, which already holds a 38-21 decision over Dayton, comes here February 2. Two games with Denison and a single contest with St. Xavier will also be played before this edition is off the press. And if we may venture a guess as to the standing we should predict that Dayton will lose at least three of these four unless the basket-shooting and pass-work of the Flyers increases in efficiency by about seventy-five per cent.

1917 Team Most Outstanding

Ever since the balmy days of 1917 when old St. Mary's had the Krusling brothers, Frank Mahoney, Norm Hochwalt, Bill Sherry and Joe Windbiel as their basketball luminaries, the Dayton school has been most times only fairly and sometimes poorly represented on the court. That 1916-1917 team was up among them winning 15 and losing but 5 games. Of those five, two were administered by the alumni. And the alumni were the old S. M. C. Cadets. The other three came at the hands of Muskingum, Miami and Wabash with its "Wonder Five" led by the famous Stonebreaker.

Last year it looked as though Fitzpatrick had the nucleus of another record-breaking team. Ladner, Lensch and Lange were all playing their first year. But that was 1928. The present season so far has told a different story.

Charley Bauman Elected Captain of 1929 Team; Was Catcher Two Seasons

WITH spring in the offing the baseball lettermen assembled to choose Charley Bauman, peppery Varsity receiver of the past two seasons, as their diamond captain for the ensuing campaign which opens at Dayton April 6 with Miami University.

The election of Bauman is a well-deserved honor and a token of the esteem in which Charley is held by his fellow athletes. Charley knows baseball, loves it and lives it. His whole heart is in the success of the Baujanite machine and his comrades showed rare judgment in selecting such an outstanding player as Charley for the position.

For the past two years Charley has been chirping wittily from behind the bats of Dayton's opposition. His fielding average for his Varsity career has been .966 and his batting .324.

All-Hawaiian Team Stars in Intra-Mural Play

An All-Hawaiian basketball five continues to be the feature of the Intra-Mural Basketball Loop at the University. During the winter months a league is formed from the students of all collegiate classes. These teams play through a basketball schedule terminating the last week in February. And the winners are awarded a trophy and medals. The intra-mural program is in charge of Harry Baujan.

The Hawaiians, under the coaching of big John McColgan, have entered an all-Hawaiian team in the race and to date have gone undefeated. On this squad are Football Captain Bob Swan, Pat Gleason, Joe Cabrinha, Carl Sackwitz, Pat Hennessey, Joe Park, Alex Wharton and Caesar Jardine.

Juniors Are Strong

The only opposition the Hawaiians have encountered to date has come from a strong junior team. The Juniors have on their roster Joe Andras and Jack O'Hearn at forwards, Stewart Armstrong at center, and Football Captain-Elect Gil Gowan and Vic Warner at the guards.

Alumni who are familiar with Flyer footballers and who relish seeing something out of the ordinary should journey out to the old Gym on Mondays or Fridays at three o'clock. The intra-murals are then on and they're a treat to watch.

Returns After Six Months Tour of Asiatic Countries

Very Rev. Msgr. Frank A. Thill, '14, who is national secretary of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade, with headquarters at Cincinnati, has returned after a six-months travel of the Orient.

The first country the prelate visited in the course of the tour was Japan and the last was the Philippine Islands.

In Japan he was the guest of the Brothers of Mary, who conduct the University of Dayton. Aside from cordial receptions from the Archbishop of Tokio and other bishops of Japan, he was entertained at a public dinner by Admiral Shinjiro Yamamoto, hero of the Battle of Port Arthur.

While in the Philippines Msgr. Thill organized the Students Mission Crusade in St. Thomas University, Manila.

The prelate's tour was made under the direction of Most Rev. John T. McNicholas, O.P., Archbishop of Cincinnati, in order to acquire a closer knowledge of missionary conditions for his work as national director of the Mission Crusade and also as archdiocesan director of mission work in the Cincinnati archdiocese.

Dayton Representative

Mary Louise Maloney, '25, teacher of English in the Longfellow School of Dayton, Ohio, was elected as the delegate to represent the Dayton public schools at the last meeting of the National Council of English Teachers which convened in Baltimore, Maryland.

This was the first time in the history of the Dayton public schools that a representative was sent to the council meeting.

Remember March 2 at the Dayton Coliseum—the annual court battle between the Alumni and the Flyers. This year the Alumni will present a fast combination of past Varsity stars. Let's be there to pull for the "grads' team."

ARTHUR E. LEEN, one of the leading attorneys of the city of Dayton and a member of the University law faculty, passed away at his home on Friday, January 5, following a severe attack of pneumonia.

For the past twelve years Mr. Leen was a member of the law firm of Murphy, Leen & Murphy, being before that associated with the firm of Mattern & Brumbaugh. He attended Dayton grade schools and Steele High School and pursued his legal education at the University of Michigan. From the beginning of his career as an attorney, Arthur Leen distinguished himself in the legal matters with which he was connected, winning the sincere admiration of the courts and lawyers with whom he came in contact. He was more than a liberal giver of his own time to civic movements, participating in various charitable drives and serving in important places on many committees. He has filled vacancies on the police court bench upon several occasions. He was particularly well known in church and fraternal connections, serving for two terms as grand knight of the Dayton Council, Knights of Columbus.

As a member of the faculty of the University of Dayton, he taught Agency and Partnership, being a member of the original faculty at the inauguration of the College of Law in 1922.

A mere recital of the accomplishments of Arthur Leen as a man, an attorney, and a professor of law, does not begin to cover the sphere of his activities in this life.

We have lost, in his passing, not only a distinguished jurist but an able professor and an inspiration to the students activities, as well as a personal friend.

Your Obligation as Readers

The editor of this magazine recognizes his obligation to give University news in a pithy, concise way and to represent alumni opinion and aspirations with vigor. We want this magazine to be talked about, and we intend to give it character and personality. Even criticism is better than apathy; a publication that is not talked about is dead.

"All that glitters is not gold." A flashy cover often means a colorless interior. It is our ambition to present a scholarly, thoughtful discussion of our University's affairs as an educational institution. We will illustrate it just as much as our limited funds allow.

Of course in our large and varied body of alumni there will be many different opinions and tastes. We would like to have them all. No doubt there are constructive ideas among the older alumni who are so solid in their support of the University, the younger alumni who are so enthusiastic and lately familiar with its conditions, the out-of-town group who are so full of fresh points of view and new contacts, and the very large body of local alumni whose local newspapers are filled daily with University news and who therefore form the most critical group of an alumni publication.

We urge the thoughtful attention of all who read this to our plea for assistance. Let us have the benefit of your opinion. We cannot imagine it, so we ask you to write to the editor and tell him. Of course there will be many circumstances and situations, unknown to individuals, which the editor is familiar with and which must often control the policy of the publication. It is his duty to know these and regard them. One of course is the scarcity of adequate funds, in face of the constantly increasing duties of the Alumni Association. We all wish to represent the University of Dayton in a dignified and attractive way. Let us take counsel together to this end.

— REMEMBER LIBRARY WEEK —

The old school that is worth attending and graduating from is worth your interest. And the one hundred per cent interest which you can show initially by supporting and actively joining the Alumni Association of the University of Dayton will be of far more value to her than any sum, which a business investment might pay in dividends, would be to you.

— REMEMBER LIBRARY WEEK —

Co-operation

It ain't the shells nor cannonade
Nor the money that each pays
But the close co-operation
That makes us win always.
It ain't the one alumnus
Nor the association as a whole,
But the everlasting team-work
Of every bloomin' soul.

With Philharmonic Symphony

Robert Schenck, '14, has been with the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra and the Damrosch orchestra for the past ten years.

Mr. Schenck has risen to the notice of such eminent conductors as Damrosch and Toscanini. And a mark of especial recognition was his selection by the latter, acknowledged to be the world's pre-eminent conductor, for the present orchestra, a combination of the New York Symphony and the Philharmonic orchestras.

Besides his connection with the orchestra, Mr. Schenck has taught in the David Mannes School, New York City.

Active in Clinic Work

One of the major items in the program of the Montgomery County, Ohio, Public Health League is the maintenance of a diagnostic clinic for the purpose of examining persons who are in doubt regarding the condition of their lungs.

Dr. Gerald C. Grout, '25, conducts this clinic in conjunction with Dr. W. C. Breidenbach. Dr. Grout is also Assistant Medical Superintendent of the Stillwater Sanatorium.

Pre-Medic Dept. Receives Gift

Thanks to the kindness of Mrs. A. C. Wintermeyer the Pre-Medic Department is richer by a number of lantern and microscopic slides; a number of prepared models showing the development of the chick day by day, up to and including the twenty-first day; a mounted and dissected preparation showing the vascular system of a hen; and finally a valuable student microscope.

Active Interest

The re-organization of the Alumni Association is progressing rapidly. It is difficult, however, accurately to visualize the possibilities that lie before us; but that they are many and great we may be sure. The Alumni Association must keep abreast of the University in its expansion and advancement. If results are to be accomplished there must be united effort and that means the support and good will of every individual alumnus.

Co-operate by sending in articles and news items for publication in your magazine. Help keep up to date the alumni files and records by notifying your secretary of changes in addresses and occupations. Attend the affairs of the University and Alumni. Think Alma Mater and your Association. Do something to further the development and advancement of your Alumni Association of the University of Dayton.
